Digital Landscape Architecture DLA 2010 Poster Awards

Prior to the conference we received posters in the three following categories

Application of New Media in Landscape Architecture:	15 posters
GIS Application in Landscape Architecture:	10 posters
Presentation of Design in Landscape Architecture:	25 posters

The posters were submitted from following countries:

One poster entry was received from each of the following countries: Hungary, Latvia, Egypt, Canada, Taiwan, Costa Rica, Argentina and Switzerland

Two poster entries from United Kingdom

Three poster entries from the United States

16 poster entries were submitted from Germany which was even topped by 18 poster submissions from Turkey.

Forty of these submissions came from students, while seven posters had been submitted from professional offices or research units. The professional poster entries were evaluated in a separate category.

Prior to the conference, the following twenty members of the poster jury, each with a relevant background, evaluated the posters online:

Members of the Anhalt Chapter of the Professional Landscape Architecture Society BDLA:
Matthias Därr, Ulrike Schmeil, Wolfgang Aldag, Erich Buhmann

Faculty and Research Assistants of Anhalt University: Einar Kretzler, Matthias Pietsch,
Rene Krug, Daniel Janko, Andreas Thon

MLA Students, Anhalt University: Sarita Mahadik, Franziska Weeck, Andreas Paul Meissner, Christian Langer, Tamer Elshayal, Uta Henze, Marcella Garcia and

External poster reviewers: Olaf Schroth, Anett Firmigl and Hellmut Schmidt-Bäumler

Each poster received a minimum of three evaluations from reviewers with special expertise in the individual poster categories. The results of the jury's votes are documented together with the results by the participants, as nearly all entries were posted during the conference and voted on by means of a questionnaire.

We are happy to present the winner of the DLA 2010 Poster award winner:
